

Editors' Thank You

The start of a new year is traditionally a time we make resolutions. It is also a good moment to reflect, count our blessings, and give thanks. Those of us privileged to be physicians know first-hand the burden of illness. And every year of health—for ourselves and those we love—is a blessing.

This Journal's mission is to be a vehicle to promote health and combat disease. We link the community of scientific researchers to clinicians and, through them, to the patients in their care. And the Journal's editors rely on willing, generous, and talented colleagues to review submitted manuscripts and help us select those to publish and inform our readers. We thank those of you who have given us your time and expertise in the battle against mental illness—our valued corps of peer reviewers. And a special word of deep gratitude to JCP's Circle of Honor, devoted colleagues who have found time in their busy schedules to review 7 or more manuscripts over the past year. To them, PPP's wonderful staff, and all our readers, we wish a healthy, meaningful 2015!
